WE NOMINATE

Roy Kenneth Fairman, long-working Mayor of Princeton Township, who early in his second term as a member of the Township Committee continues to display rare understanding of the "twofold duty of holders of public office": to reflect the wishes of those who elect them and to tell the people what has to be done — to lead the community in things that must be done. This week's joint executive session of Borough Council and Township Committee, called at Fairman's request to ponder the efficacy of the tripartite Sewer Operating Agreement (Borough, Township and University), cast light on the problems confronting the Township and the Princeton Area.

While the Monday evening gathering, attracting four of the five members of the Township Committee and the full membership of Borough Council, was conducted on an off-the-record basis, it was reported by municipal spokesmen that the discussions ranged from amicable agreement on the importance of evaluating "the present sewer system" to reports on recreational facilities, planning and a new approach to a searching study of Township-Borough consolidation. It is significant that the topics touched upon by the combined forces of Borough and Township had previously been "covered" by the 49-year-old Fairman in statements beamed at his mushrooming constituency.

Currently directing the affairs of a GOP-dominated municipality, that has doubled in population since 1950, Fairman delayed his bid for elective office until 1958 — although in years gone by, when residing in the Borough, he had been approached by enterprising Democrats as a candidate for Borough Council. An architect of the Ivy League Agreement governing the conduct of intercollegiate sports, and a founding officer of the Princeton Council of Community Services, he remains active in the Army Reserve after compiling an outstanding World War II record highlighted by decorations won as staff officer with the 6th Army Group in Europe.

The son of a beloved New York State sports columnist, who died unexpectedly Monday morning, and one of the great all-around Princeton athletes of the past several decades, Fairman was graduated with the Class of 1934. During his student years, in addition to serving on the Undergraduate Council and directing the Summer Camp for underprivileged youngsters from urban areas, he accumulated eight varsity awards — three in football, three in basketball and two in lacrosse. He captained the basketball team, and, in recognition of "sportsmanship, play and influence," earned both the John Prentiss Poe Football Cup and the B. Franklin Bunn Basketball Trophy.

Fairman, now in his 27th year (including time-out for World War II) of association with college athletics, moved in 1934 from the architectural drafting room in McCormick Hall to the offices of the now-defunct Princeton Athletic Association in the First National Bank Building. For a time coach of basketball and assistant coach in football and lacrosse, he became a full-time administrator in 1937, succeeding Asa S. Bushnell, Commissioner of the Eastern College Athletic Conference, as Graduate Manager of Princeton Athletics. In 1941 he was named director of the inter-collegiate program and, six years later, took over the then newly-consolidated Department of Physical Education and Athletics.

For insisting that Princeton Township and Borough must now face up to the challenges of "the age of combustion"; for providing the kind of purposeful leadership so desperately needed in local government; for looking to the future while seeking to preserve the assets bequeathed by the past; he is our nominee for

UNIVERSITY SPEAKS

On Municipal Problems. Residents of Princeton learned this week what stand the University has taken on such controversial public matters as urban renewal, traffic, and the improvement of Palmer Square.

In the first statement of position which the University has issued on these matters, and in a subsequent press conference, President Robert F. Go-hen admitted that the University rarely speaks out on community issues and suggested that, if present misunderstandings have been caused by lack of communication, then perhaps the University "is as much at fault as any group in the area."

He expressed his concern over the tendency to ignore the good faith and integrity of neighbors on issues involving the welfare of the community and suggested that recent "vehement" public statements indicated a lack of understanding of problems facing both Princeton governments and the University.

In essence, this is the University's position:

"It has never abandoned the notion of urban renewal, but realizes that the Borough must explore the subject — along with alternative plans — in search for funds sufficient for the adequate administration of its affairs."

"It looks with grave concern at an increasingly disruptive and dangerous internal traffic congestion and favors the Jackson Street extension as one step toward relief of such congestion."

"It favors improvement of Palmer Square, provided that adequate parking facilities can be obtained and with the understanding that Palmer Square, Inc., (formerly known as Princeton Municipal Improvement) is not interested in the acquisition of additional land."

"It looks forward to the Bar-ough, Township and University agreeing on both an internal and peripheral traffic plan which could be submitted to the state and to the counties involved as a sound means of protecting the community's future and preserving it as one of the great cultural, historic and residential areas of America."

The Future? In regard to the future, Dr. Goehen said, "I myself am in disagreement with those who look upon the Princeton of the future as unchanged and unchanging, except from population increase, further traffic problems and absolutes of private and public property."

The University president said he believed that those who plan intelligently for a community's future development do not thereby advocate the creation of a metropolis, but merely recognize the fact that Princeton is attracting an increasing number of people who want to live here, and who will be using streets, shops and community services whether the community plans or doesn't plan.

The question is not one of growth or no growth," stated Dr. Goehen. "The question is how to plan for it, how to control it and how to protect the inherent values of this community."

TOWN TOPICS regrets that the labor shortage caused by the strike at its printer, Sleeper Publications in Mount Holly, has delayed distribution of the current issue. Because a smaller number of pages than usual is being printed, advertisements vations as early as possible.

community with its relative quietness, openness and serenity." He pointed out that the Borough will eventually have to build a new elementary school provide better library facilities and increase its salary budget for municipal employees, and he said that, in his opinion, there were three ways of meeting these capital costs: increase in residential taxes, development of business property, or consolidation of the two municipalities.

He said that he was not eliminating the possibility that a combination of all three of these alternatives might be required.

Impression Corrected. In discussing the relationship between Palmer Square, Inc. and the community, Dr. Goehen said he thought it was unfortunate that at recent Planning Board hearings the impression was given that Palmer Square, Inc. favored urban renewal as a means of condemning property which the corporation could then buy as the re-developer. He pointed out that the Borough, not Palmer Square, Inc., had originally raised the question of urban renewal, and said that, if development were carried beyond the land now owned by Palmer Square, Inc., that the Borough alone would decide who the developer would be.

He explained the relationship between the University and Palmer Square, Inc., citing the establishment of the corporation as a business venture designed to benefit the entire community and pointing out that, although Edgar Palmer, the founder, has bequeathed a controlling interest in Palmer Square, Inc. to the University, the corporation operates as a separate institution.

He said that Palmer Square, Inc. must operate on sound business principles (its present investment return is 3 1/2 percent, Dr. Goehen said), and retain the right to improve its properties with the community's good in mind. "I would emphasize," said Dr. Goehen, "that capital improvements bring sorely-needed additional tax income to the Borough."

In regard to present residents of the urban renewal area, Dr. Goehen said that the University believes that "every possible practical step must be taken to relocate them in better dwellings."

Dr. Goehen said he felt that the prospects for inter-racial residential areas had improved in Princeton. "We need a lot of self-education in this regard," he commented, "and sometime we must grow up to the point where we do not have this concentration of races in separate areas."

Traffic Study Under Way.
In a discussion of the traffic problem, Dr. Goehen said that the University has retained the services of Michael Repugno and Van Ness Black, who are making a study of the traffic problem as it affects both the University and the Borough.

He said he hoped that the study will be finished before the end of the summer, and that when it has been completed it will be discussed with Borough officials with the idea of blending Borough and University traffic plans.
Dr. Goheen said that the University and Palmer Square, Inc. both agree with the Planning Board that an east-west street parallel to Nassau was essential and favored the Jackson Street extension.

He also repeated the University's offer to give land and money to any plan which will solve immediate traffic problems and at the same time, "assure future truck and passenger car traffic control through the building of a complete road system ringing the community and reducing to a minimum the use of Borough streets by through traffic."

The re-alignment of College Road, announced some months ago, is expected to be finished this summer, said Dr.
Goheen. The new road will run east from a point near the Rosedale Lockers on Alexander through to Washington Road at the new Junior Faculty Apartments. Eventually, said Dr. Goheen, the road will proceed north of the lake shere, to Harrison.

Dr. Goheen concluded his statement by expressing the University's appreciation for the support given by the community.

"We are deeply aware of the close and unique bonds which exist between ourselves and the community," said Dr.
Goheen. "It is our hope that our statement will be accepted in the spirit in which it is given — as a sincere expression of the University's concern for the entire Princeton community and its well-being in the critical years that lie ahead."

Judge Clark, a long time reand was one of the youngest magistrates ever appointed to the the Allied Appeals Court in Person To Person

We were talking about honesty in advertising, which we live by, and the lostest you suffer from dishonest advertising, and we thought you'd be interested in the observations of an expert on the subject. He said, "The firm which tries to attract you with "bait" advertising is invariably the firm which "tricks" you in the actual transaction when you make a purchase. It is only logical that if they openly practice deception in advertising that the same lack of principles will exist in the rest of their business. This is indicated by records in Better Business Bureaus throughout the country. The kind of advertising a firm uses is an open badge of the whole character of a company."

We asked, how can you distinguish between deceit and honesty in advertising? and he said, "Bait advertising stresses a 'come-on' and truthful advertising stresses the values which mean the most in economy to the customer such as quality of service and facilities and the integrity of the dealer.
A good businessman knows the truth of the biblical, "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches," and therefore a sure guide to a prospective customer is the Dealer's reputation."

You cannot get "stuck" if you do business with a reputable firm, and we humbly submit our name and entire business to your most thorough inspection.

HOSPITAL FETE SATURDAY

Fun For All. Promising fun for the whole family, the Hospital Fete, an annual event sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary for the benefit of Princeton Hospital, will be held Saturday from 10 to 5 at the Fitzpatrick Field, west of Palmer Stadium. More than 500 Princetonians dedicated to the hospital have worked toward success of the 1961 Fete under the chairmanship of Mrs. Donald Truland and Mrs. William H. Sayen III.

The program will open with the Collector's Auction, always a top attraction, with Lester Staloff, well-known auctioneer, on hand to entice bidding on hundreds of beautiful, useful and rare objects donated for the sale. Among the unusual offerings are a model A Ford in good running condition, an almost new Thomas electric organ and a laminated rosewood double bed with curved headboard, footboard and sides. The bed, a century-old museum piece, was made by John Belter, a famous Southern cabinet maker.

All auction items may be previewed in the Auction Tent on Friday from 2 to 6. In charge of the bidulations were Mrs. Donald Strachan and Mrs. K. P. Collins.

Of particular attraction for children will be two half-hour shows given by Paul and Mary Ritts and their puppets, stars of television's "Family Show". The Ritts will perform at 11 and again at 2:30.

The Garden Tent, containing a full array of plants and garden accessories, will feature James Clark, Princeton University horticultural expert who will answer questions on gardening. Mrs. Christian Aall and Mrs. Henry Patton, co-chairmen of the Garden Tent, urge that questions be prepared in advance.

Hand craftsmanship and originality will mark the wares for sale along the Lane of Shops and in the Craft Shop. All day long, midway amusements for the children have been scheduled, including pony rides, children's movies and tightrope walking contests. An exhibition of dog training is set for 1 o'clock.

There will be a fenced-in Toss Tending area where children may be left in the care of competent women.

172 NASSAU SOLD

To Leonard LaPlace, Leonard LaPlace, owner of Nassau Interiors, has a contract to buy the building at 172 Nassau Street, where Davidson's Market is located. This was revealed at last week's meeting of the Princeton Borough Zoning Board, when Mr. La-Place applied for a variance to permit remodeling of the upper two floors of the building from the present six large apartments to 12 smaller ones. The variance was necessary because there is not enough land around the building to provide the required amount of off-street parking. The Zoning Board approved Mr. LaPlace's application on condition that he provide 12 parking spaces within 400 feet of the building. Mr. LaPlace has already leased a lot at 171-173 Nassau, across the street behind Andy's Diner, which will provide six parking spaces.

In addition to the 172 Nassau Street property, Mr. LaPlace also has contracts for three other properties in the vicinity: a single-family dwelling at 15 Park Place; an empty lot at 17 Park Place, and a single-family dwelling on LaVake Place, the alley next to 172 Nassau. All these are in the area which the Borough hopes someday to convert into off-street parking between Vandeventer Avenue and Moore Street.

The only other application before the Zoning Board last week was that of Princeton Cleaning and Floor Waxing Co., 108 Witherspoon Street, for permission to operate the former Austin R. Silvester garage at 259-265 Nassau Street as a garage and gas station selling Crown gasoline. A variance is required because the building has not been operated as a garage for more than three years.

Action on this application which was opposed by Richard H. Swinnerin of 5 Murray Place, was deferred for further consideration.

Jaycees Complete Survey
The problems of the Princeton community and how it rates in the eyes of its residents will be explored next Tuesday when the Junior Chamber of Commerce present the findings of a community survey at a public meeting scheduled for 8:30 p. m. in the auditorium of Princeton High School.

To make the survey the day, the professional advice of Opinion Research Corporation on sampling, and then prepared a lengthy questionnaire which was submitted to 265 adult residents of Borough and Township. When completed, they were turned over to ORC where they were processed by the research organization as a public service.

Residents were asked to rate such community institutions as Princeton University, fire and police departments, Princeton Hospital and the public library. They were asked their opinions on consolidation, fluoridation, a tax-supported community swimming pool, the employment of a full-time administrator in the Borough, and so on.

In addition, those who replied to the questionnaire were asked to write down the name of the person - and the organization - that had done the most in their opinion to help improve the Princeton community.

YES REPORTS 300

Texas Signing Up. Over 300 boys and girls in the 14-17 age bracket have registered with YES - the Youth Employment Service that opened its doors at 120 John Street on May 15. Of these 300, 280 have returned the parent-approval blanks which are required before job openings can be made available.

So far, YES has received about 35 requests for teenagers from business firms and home owners. Some of the requests are for full-time summer workers, others are for part-time help. Some ask for clerical skills, others ask for a muscular right arm to scrape paint.

A business office has asked for a stock boy. Another request has come in for a life guard (that one was filled in short order). Women ask for baby-sitters who will go away for the summer with a family, or who will pool - sit during summer afternoons. One firm would like a boy with a driver's license and truck-driving experience. A family on the move wants a boy to help with the packing and cleaning.

A day camp needs a counselor.

The young people themselves, in filling out their registration forms, have indicated their capacities and desires. One young girl enjoys older people and would like a job as companion two afternoons a week. Another girl wants to give children's parties. One boy said he was an expert at bicycle repair, and a friend said on application that he was a good trumpet player.

Before going out for an interview, prospective employer - sitters are briefed by YES staff members on the proper approach to an employer. The question of pay is negotiated between the employer and the applicant, although YES will provide employers with a pay guide, if there is some uncertainty about how much to offer a young worker.

Registration for both employers and boys and girls is still open, and will be on a continuing basis. The YES office is open daily from 1 to 5 p.m. and Saturdays from 9 to noon date, it will be open from 9 to 12 weekdays, and closed Saturdays. The telephone number is WA 4-5541.

SCHOOLS REPORT GIFTS

Hope for '63 Opening. Directors of the Princeton Country Day School development program said this week that if the necessary funds are subscribed, the school may be in its new campus by the fall of 1963.

The goal is $3 million. So far, contributions include two $100,000 gifts, four $25,000 donations, three $10,000 gifts and 42 contributions ranging from $1,000 to $10,000. It is hoped that the $3 million goal will be reached by April, 1962.

Frank E. Teplin, chairman of the development program, said that, although the initial results of the campaign have been encouraging, the directors hope for even larger gifts than those already received. He expressed the opinion that such gifts were essential if the

News Of The THEATRES

MCCARTER GUILD FORMED

To Complement Theatre, McCarter Theatre has announced the formation of The McCarter Guild, an organization dedicated to the support of programs related to the activities of the theatre itself. Membership in the Guild will be statewide, and will include such categories as patrons, supporting members and general membership, all of which will contribute to peripheral, but related, theatrical activities connected with the McCarter Center for the Performing Arts.

According to present plans, the Guild will have a school department which will organize school groups who want to attend McCarter plays, arrange tours, provide study aids and send out "live" actors who will demonstrate acting techniques and give readings to schools and clubs.

In addition, there will be a charity department for those who might not be able to afford the theatre without help. There will be a production department which will produce benefits, both in McCarter and in surrounding communities, and a publications department which will publish the McCarter "Bulletin", various educational aids and information catalogues.

Stuart Duncan will serve as production director for the Guild, and Mrs. Raymond Harper will be membership director. Other members of the Board of Directors are Dr. E. L. Hubler, Mrs. Gordon Knox and Mrs. Cyril Nelson.

The advisory council will consist of Kirkland Alexander, Richard Barr, Katharine Cornell, Melchor Ferrer, Hugh Hardy, Helen Hayes, Norris Houghton, Joshua Logan, Philip Minor, Philip Ober, Ben Piazza, Richard Plessant, Charles Schultz, James Stewart, A. Monroe Wade and Clinton Wilder, Jr. Additional information may be obtained by writing to Box 528, Princeton, or by calling McCarter Theater, WA 1-8700.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Return to Peyton Place (May 31-June 6) is more sensational, sentimental junk from the apparently bottomless heap of Jerry Wald. Jose Ferrer directed a cast which includes Carol Lynley, Jeff Chandler, Eleanor Parker and Tuesday Weld. Designed to Capitalize on Wald's earlier success with "Peyton Place," the new film maintains the artistic level of its Jerry-built predecessor.

It concerns the future misadventures of the lachrymose and sex-obsessed denizens of Grace Metalious' never-never land. There is some topical interest in Miss Metalious' implausible handling of the effects on the town and on young Alison MacKenzie (Miss Lynley) after Allison publishes a fleshy novel suspiciously like "Peyton Place." The film is in CinemaScope and color.

On the Double (June 7-13) is, for all intents and purposes, a one-man show. Danny Kaye, forsaking his recent semi-serious roles for a return to low, high and middle comedy, is superb as an American GI who aids the Allied cause toward the end of World War II by impersonating a British officer so the officer can go off on a secret mission.

The complications, predictably, include a spy sub-plot and embarrassing situations with the officer's wife (Dana Wynter) and mistress (Diana Dors). Kaye throws food, does a female impersonation and sings. Always he is engaging, so much so that one is frequently lulled into forgetting that this is nothing but a vaudeville show masquerading as a movie. Miss Dors undresses from time to time with her usual verve and enthusiasm.

THE GARDEN

Breathless (May 30-June 3) is one of the vaguest of the French "Nouvelle Vague" films. It is also one of the most engrossing, in its formless, frenetic way.

The action is compressed into a little more than one day, and hinges around a sensitively presented encounter between Jean-Paul Belmondo, a young thief with a Humphrey Bogart complex, and Jean Seberg, an American student in Paris who is attempting to break into journalism with the Paris Herald Tribune.

The haphazardness of the film is clearly a comment on —Continued on Page 8

DISTINGUISHED SYLVAN POOL

one of a series

Just one of the more than 2300 swimming pools installed by nationally-recognized Sylvan Pools, Inc. This is but one of 50 custom shapes and sizes. Sylvan Pools was recently awarded the Gold Medal for design excellence so that, for 14 years, Sylvan pools are the most proved, most popular, most reliable swimming pools available. You may be surprised to learn that a hand-crafted, steel-reinforced Sylvan Pool costs no more than pools of far lesser quality. Priced from $2880 to $6980, low bank rates require as little as $50 per month. Where quality and pride of ownership are considerations, a Sylvan Pool is your best buy. GROWING PAINS: Most everyone acknowledges the public library must expand, but how or where is another question. Mrs. Nicholas Costa (left) feels the library should try to keep its central location; Mrs. Niles Nelson thinks it should expand elsewhere.

Question of the Week

Question: Do you believe the public library should expand by acquiring adjacent or nearby property, or should a new library be built elsewhere in the community?

Where asked: Outside public library.

Mr. Nicholas Costa, 28 Maple Street, housewife: I think if it is possible to acquire property near the present building, it would be very nice because it is handy and centrally located. But in any case, we need a bigger library. Everything else has gotten consideration; I feel it is time they act on expansion.

Mrs. Nils Nelson, 31 Maple Street, housewife: I think they should expand it, but not here. I feel they should buy some more property somewhere in town where it would be easy for people to get to without too much trouble. I don't see how they can expand where they are now.

Paul Schleyer, 184 Prospect Avenue, Assistant Professor of Chemistry, Princeton University: I always thought this building had particular charm and I would favor expanding on the present location, if possible. However, it would probably be more efficient to build a new building designed specifically for library purposes elsewhere.

Miss Linda Scusserra, Lincoln Highway, student, Miss Fine's School: A new building. The facilities of this building are very definitely limited and inadequate. There is not enough area around it that I can see, to add to it.

Mrs. Robert Parmenter, 175 Hamilton Avenue, housewife: I find this location very convenient and I would like to see them stay here. Whether or not they stay would depend on their being able to get the property next door. It might not be financially feasible to do this. How much is it going to cost the taxpayers, in other words.

Dr. Helmut Esposchied, 178 Harrison Street, retired professor of chemistry: This location suits me fine. I don't know what the advantages would be if they moved.

IT'S NEW To Us

AFRICAN TO NASSAU
 Native Carvings Here. Modestly priced native carvings from Kenya and Tanganyika are for sale now in what seems a most unlikely spot for such offerings - Viet's Chocolate Shoppe on Nassau Street.

Here, in dignified display, you will find hand-carved figures of men and women and a few of animals executed with a certain rough-hewn skill that gives them the cachet of authenticity.

One of the most appealing is a woman balancing a bowl on her head with her hand. She stands next to a woman who apparently doesn't need to balance the bowl because it rests serenely on top of her head without the steady-ing hand.

A tall warrior, standing some 18 inches in height (the largest figure in the collection) poses his spear aloft from the base of the carving. A smaller warrior also bears a spear. There is an intense little drummer, too.

Among the animals is something that looks like a whale with wings, an elephant and a tiger. The figures are carved from a heavy, black wood that might be ebony, but might just as well be some native wood unknown to us. Prices start at $4.50 and go up to $4 for the big warrior.

In addition, Viet's has in the African collection a set of three serving pieces, also carved from dark woods. A long-handled spoon and fork, resembling a pair of sealed servers, are combined with a long-bladed knife in a set which sells for $4. The knife is all wood, including the blade, but it has a good sharp point and a surprisingly thin edge. The handles of the servers are native beads.

IMPRINTS

On Cotton. Folk prints combining primary Scandinavian colors and traditional floral and geometric designs, are lined up by the bolt at The Fabric Shop on Chambers Street, ready for a quick seamstress with summer square dances ahead. There are so many bright designs that you can have a new gathered skirt for every dance.

Choose, let's say, the myrtle blue background that shows off yellow, red and lime flowers, tiny as forget-me-nots, arranged in medieval pattern, or the overall pattern that strews its multi-colored flowers against the bright red background as random as the daisies in a meadow.

In a less traditional vein, there is a black fabric with orange sinias, and violets.

FM For Your Car

Before you start out on your transcontinental trip this summer, stop at Gordon Radio Service, 221 Wither-spoon, and pick up some good music for your car radio.

For $49.95, you may buy at Gordon's an FM car radio which you can attach to your present car radio and eliminate, thereby, the rock 'n' roll which will otherwise accompany you all the way to California.

This Granco attachment is about the size of a book. It fastens with three screws, one wire and an antenna plug-in, and is so simple to install that it can be moved around from car to car, depending on whether the driver wants Beach or Fashion. The radio will fit all late models of domestic cars and The foreign makes.

For a free demonstration, stop at Gordon's, in the Houghton Building, and listen awhile.

blocked against green leaves. White wheels roll against an olive and black or a steel blue ground and tiny red tufts spill out on a background of deep plum purple.

Some of the fabrics leave behind the primary colors of the traditional designs and display smoky shades of blue, red and pink against a dark ground. Blue grapes, little green limes, and clusters of fruit — all miniature in scale show off well against a deep olive green background. Provincial squares of deep blue, violet and royal come together in another interesting dark pattern.

Admirers of paisley will like the combination of deep mustard and deep green paisley stripes. Another striped pattern with red or blue background has pinpoints of yellow whirling around the design like lights on a fairground.

There's a stained glass print which actually blocks out the rough outlines of windows in an interesting repeat pattern of arches and ovals. Another pattern, like the stained glass one considerably less naive than the bouquet prints, sets off black trellis stripes against the palest willow green.

On the solid side, The Fabric Shop has Indian jute burlap in — well, what color do you want anyway? Lilac burlap — there's a shocker for you. And grey-blue, apple green, hunter's green, yellow, grey, gold, red and just plain burlap. Our favorite is the white. What would you do with white burlap? Buy it first and decide later.

SCHOOL PRESENTS VIEWS on Sacred Heart. The third hearing for the Religious of the Sacred Heart on the order's application to the Township Zoning Board for permission to build a school for girls on The Great Road was scheduled to be held this Thursday at 8 p.m.
C. Russell O'Brien, chairman of the advisory board of the proposed school, has issued a statement summarizing the position of the group.

Mr. O'Brien points out that less than three percent (slightly over one acre) of the 50-acre Great Road tract would be used for school purposes and that the rest of the property would be treated like a park, to provide a "substantial buffer zone between buildings and continuous properties or roads."

"Taxes will continue to be paid on the land not actually occupied by school buildings," Mr. O'Brien emphasizes. "Only the buildings themselves and up to five acres of land reasonably necessary for their enjoyment will be tax-exempt."

The school would be required to pay its share of any future Township services, such as new roads and sewers. Mr.
O'Brien states, and adds that architects Jean Labatut and Raymond Bowers have planned that the entrance to the school will be on the east-west access road planned by the Township, not on The Great Road.

According to present plans, the school will eventually have 300 girls enrolled in a kindergarten-through-12th-grade curriculum with 25-30 teachers.

NO TIME FOR SERGEANTS (June 3), a farcical recounting of the joys of army life, is worth seeing for the likable compose performance of its star, Andy Griffith. The script and direction are ordinary.

Although probably intended as a sort of satire on the military, the film is too amiable and low-comedy to score any very piercing points. But it has its moments; memorable scenes include Griffith's turnabout psychiatric interview ("Maybe I'd go out with the girls," he tells the doctor; "you wouldn't have to think about sex all the time") and the inspection where Griffith causes the latrine seats to jump to attention.

MODIGLIANA OF MONT-PARNASSE (June 6-10) is an implausible, sentimentalized account of how Modigliani lived while painting those ingratiatingly elongated faces and whitely eyes. In French with English subtitles, it stars Gerard Philippe, who died soon after it was completed. Lilli Palmer and Anouk Aimee.
Philippe's Modigliana is a tortured, cynical soul who divides his time between sicknesses and mistresses (Miss Palmer and Miss Aimee). Occasionally, also, he paints. The real trouble with the picture is the script; the highly competent cast goes through its paces with assurance and feeling.

POOL CODE TABLED

By Board of Health. A township ordinance to control public swimming pools has been tabled by the Board of Health for further study. Acting Health Officer Marcelle Farley, Dr. William Kleinberg and Dr. Elmer Alpert will examine the situation and report within the next two months. There are about half a dozen public swimming pools in the Township, with additional ones in the planning stage.

At the Board's meeting Thursday night, eight property owners with overflowing septic tanks were ordered to connect to Township sewers. The affected properties are on Mt. Lucas Road, Brookstone and Pardee Circle.

Four property owners were asked to correct defective septic systems. These properties are in areas which are not served by Township sewers. The Board has asked for cost estimates which will serve to indicate the feasibility of connecting three homes in the Mt. Lucas area with the existing sewer.

The Board of Health has written to Township Committee asking for action before amending existing codes to prohibit dogs from entering stores. Merchants in the Princeton Shopping Center have complained to the Board of Health about roaming dogs. The animals have also been a continuing problem at Riverside, Littlebrook and Valley Road Schools, the Board of Health said.

PHS TRACK TEAM WINS

Central Jersey Title. A major upset in Group III high school track was achieved Tuesday by the Little Tigers of Princeton when they won the Central Jersey championship in the annual meet at Ashbury Park.

Captain Win Niles' entry amassed 52½ points, topping his nearest competitor, South River, by a good 20. Defending champion Manasquan was far outdistanced.

Co-captain Lloyd Fletcher paced the Blue and White with a double, taking the high hurdles in 15.2 and the 180-yard lows in 19.8. Other Princeton firsts went to Joe Cox in the shotput with a heave of 46 feet 2½ inches, and Dick Montgomery and Bob Harrison who tied in the pole vault with 11 feet.

"We kept looking over our shoulders for some one to catch up with us all afternoon," Niles said, "but we led from the very start and no one came close." It was the first time since 1956 that Princeton High has won the event.

STATE MEET SATURDAY

For PHS track Extra Princeton High School track coach Win Niles will enter 11 Blue and White cliffrunners in the annual New Jersey State Meet Saturday at Rutgers University stadium. Time trials will be held in the morning with the finals at 2:30.

Chief among the 11 entrants will be co-captain Lamont Fletcher who will compete in the low and high hurdles and the broad jump; Tom Bogia, 100 and 200-yard sprints; John Bensinger, quarter mile; Rich Montgomery, high jump; Bob Harrison and Montgomery, pole vault; Howard Gould and Joe Cox, discus and shot put; and co-captain Joe Beachell, javelin. Last year at the state meet, Beachell placed third in the javelin and Fletcher second in the 180-yard low hurdles to give PHS seven points and ninth place among Group III schools.

Last Wednesday in a six-team meet held at New Brunswick, Princeton placed sixth. Coach Niles described the competition as very rough, especially so since the meet was unclassified. He added that the team was hampered by the inability of Fletcher to compete in the event. The participating schools were Highland Park, New Brunswick, Toms River, Ashbury Park, Trenton Central and Princeton High School.

TWO DATE ICA-A TITLES

Edmunds, Kovalakides Win. A pair of track stars with Princeton affiliations were among the winners of individual titles in the rain-plattered ICA-A meet staged Saturday at Randall's Island, N.Y., under extremely adverse conditions.

On the coldest May 27, in Weather Bureau history, Dick Edmunds, captain of the Tiger team, won the 440 and Nick Kovalakides, a Maryland senior whose home is here, defended his title successfully in the javelin. Both won with something to spare.

Edmunds' chief competitor, Jimmy Wedderburn of N.Y.U., victor in the quarter-mile a year ago, failed to qualify for the finals. Because of a long, cold downpour Friday, heats and finals were all staged in one day. Wedderburn's participation in the 880 trials took enough out of him so that he missed qualifying in the 440.

Edmunds ran in front all the way, finishing six or seven yards ahead of the rest. His time of 48.1 on the soggy clin-ders was a fine performance, with the victory ranking as the first to fall to a Princetonian in the ICA-A quarter-mile since the turn of the century.

Edmunds will run in the NCAA championships later this month and in the AAU meet as well. He has his sights set on being named to the United States team which will go to Moscow this summer.

Kovalakides threw the javelin 222 feet, 4 inches from soaking wet grass, a topflight effort that was 13 feet better
